Dear students,

Would you like to present your disruptive ideas to world leaders such as Christine Lagarde, Dominic Barton, Professor Niall Ferguson, Jack Ma, and Tony Tan Keng Yam?

Discuss your ideas with the global elite, create an impact, win CHF 20,000-- and enjoy an all-expenses-paid trip to Switzerland. Seize the opportunity and qualify as one of 200 “Leaders of Tomorrow” for the 47th St. Gallen Symposium (www.symposium.org) by competing for the St. Gallen Wings of Excellence Award 2017. Here some more highlights if you make it to St. Gallen:

▪ Meet 600 top managers, entrepreneurs, politicians and scientists from more than 50 nations
▪ Share your ideas with the symposium’s global audience
▪ Small and intimate gatherings with world leaders, exclusively for the Leaders of Tomorrow
▪ Meet 200 of the world’s brightest young minds and become member of a global community
▪ Broad media coverage

The 47th St. Gallen Symposium will be held from 3–5 May 2017 at the University of St. Gallen, Switzerland, focusing on the topic “The dilemma of disruption”. The St. Gallen Wings of Excellence Award is the world’s most prestigious essay competition of its kind giving you the extraordinary opportunity to share your voice and opinion with some of the world’s most influential leaders and decision makers.

Have a look at the competition question and requirements at www.symp.sg/competition, register now to receive the latest news and tips, and hand in your essay no later than 1 February 2017. To get more insights check out https://youtu.be/iZs20tCu5zw and follow us on our Social Media channels.

We look forward to hopefully welcoming you to our forum in Switzerland in May 2017!

With best regards,

Daniil, Julian, and Kaspar
Your Leaders of Tomorrow Team

International Students’ Committee (ISC)
award@symposium.org

St. Gallen Symposium
P.O. Box 1045
9001 St. Gallen, Switzerland
Phone +41 71 227 20 20, Fax +41 71 227 20 30
LinkedIn | Facebook | Twitter | #disruptiondilemma