1. The application process (in Hebrew):

The application process is conducted through the Graduate School of the Technion. This is a structured and formalized process that includes multiple steps. Each step is aimed at assessing the applicant's qualifications, suitability, and potential contribution to the academic or research environment.

2. Details about the application:

- The application process is conducted through the Graduate School of the Technion.
- The process includes multiple steps to assess the applicant's qualifications and suitability.
- The applicant must submit all necessary documents and information.
- The deadline for submission is [insert deadline date].
- The final decision will be made by the Graduate School Committee based on the information provided.

3. Contact information:

- Address: [Technion Address]
- Telephone: [Technion Telephone Number]
- Fax: [Technion Fax Number]
- Email: [Email Address]

4. Additional information:

The applicant is encouraged to visit the Graduate School website for more information regarding the application process and the necessary documents.

Note: The information above is a general overview and should be detailed according to the specific requirements and guidelines provided by the Technion Graduate School.